Seen, Heard and Done Among Those Who Go, Come and Tarry—Women and Society, Here and Elsewhere

BY MISS E. NELLIE BECK

MRS. SALTSMARSH'S GUEST

SHOWERED WITH ATTENTIONS. Miss Ethel Hudson of Mobile, East-week guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Saltmarsh, is being showered with the most delightful social attentions by their friends.

On Monday Admiral Bradford entertained at luncheon aboard the U. S. S. Olympia for Mr. and Mrs. Saltmarsh and Miss Hodson.

On Tuesday night all three were prominent among the guests invited to meet Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans and the officers of the fleet at the Osceola Club dance and supper.

On Wednesday Mrs. James M. Muldon entertained at a lovely luncheon for Miss Hodson.

Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Saltmarsh gave a large card party for their charming guest. Quantities of pink flowers added their dainty grace and perfume to the beautiful rooms of their residence.

This afternoon Mrs. Scarritt Moreno entertains for Miss Hodson and Friday afternoon she will be the honoree of Mrs. H. L. Simpson and Mrs. E. C. Maxwell.

PRETTY WHITE WEDDING

OF MISS BAZZELL AND MR. HUGHES.

Rev. Father Brady of the navy yard officiated last night at one of the prettiest of the Easter home weddings when he read the ceremony uniting Mr. Joseph A. Hughes of Warrington and Miss Hazel Gertrude Bazzell, third daughter of Mrs. William Bazzell and the late Captain Bazzell.

Miss Bazzell, sister of the bride, played "Hearts and Flowers" as the bride party entered and rendered "The Flower Song" very softly during the ceremony.

On account of the recent death of the bride's father the wedding was a very quiet one, only the families and intimate friends being present.

The rooms were beautifully decorated entirely in white carnations and white roses with their own foliage except in the dining room where a few pretty ferns lent a charming bit of green.

The bride was lovely in a gown of soft white Persian lawn and dainty val lace, her only ornament a cluster of white carnations in her hair and an armful of the same pure white flowers. She was given away by her brother, Mr. George Bazzell.

Miss Jeannette Bazzell, the bride's sister and maid of honor was similarly gowned and with the groom, his best man Mr. John Seely, formed an attractive bridal group as they stood before the priest.

The bride's mother Mrs. Bazzell and her sister Miss Bazzell were handsomely gowned in black silk.

Mrs. McDonald Seely sister of the groom, was one of the out of town guests present.

In the beautifully decorated dining room Miss Laura Quigley presided assisted by the bride's sister Miss Bazzell and her aunt Miss Annie Langley. The bride presents were numerous and handsome.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will reside in Warrington where they are "at home" to their friends making the trip to the navy yard last night on the pilot boat.

Mr. Hughes is receiving clerk in the paymaster's office at the navy yard and highly esteemed.

PERCIVAL—BROCK

A PINK HOME WEDDING.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Witkowski was beautifully decorated with pink and green last evening for the wedding of their sister Miss Mayme E. Percival daughter of Mrs. Mary Percival of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. Walter S. Brock of Anderson, S. C.

The ceremony took place in the parlor where a temporary altar had been tastefully arranged before a screen of greenery that heightened the effect of the bridal picture.

Rev. P. H. Whaley rector of Christ church read the beautiful ceremony at 8:30. Barrios's orchestra rendering appropriate music during the ceremony and throughout the evening.

The bride's sister Miss Florence Percival of Baltimore was maid of honor and becomingly gowned in soft white mullet over silk.

The groom was accompanied by his friend Mr. Fulwer Watson of Anderson, S. C., as best man.

The pretty bride wore a soft robe of white crepe de chine over white silk and carried bride roses as did her maid.

Mrs. Witkowski the bride's sister, was gowned in a handsome black silk.

The ceremony was followed by a reception during which a delicious salad course was served in the dining room where Mrs. Roch and Mrs. Vidal presided.

Miss Ella Brock of Anderson, S. C., sister of the groom, beautifully gowned in white net, presided at the punch bowl.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock left last night for Atlanta and other points where they will spend their honeymoon before going to reside in Anderson. The bride's going-away suit was of gray silk with a violet trimmed gray hat and accessories to match.

SIXTEEN NEW STARS IN

EASTERN CONSTELLATION.

The order of the Eastern Star had a glorious meeting in Masonic Hall Tuesday night when sixteen new Stars were initiated, eight of whom were Shriners from Jacksonville and seven were from the war ships.

The ladies of the order were greatly interested in various Shriner properties they saw including a lot of robes which looked like fancy dressing gowns hanging about the walls and piles of square pillows with "camels" on them "crossing the desert," and a lot of swords and little scimitars which looked like they were ready to meet the Turks.

There were also a lot of big boxes that looked like German immigrant chests but one of the Masons confidentially told one of the ladies who confidentially told the writer that those "chests" were full of home made bread to feed the Shriners as they are crossing the desert.

But there is a suspicion abroad that they were full of red hot sand over which those poor men were compelled to walk in their bare feet and that that is what caused those awful groans and beseechings that emanated from the torture chamber last night. One Shriner reluctantly admitted that the Tampa and Jackson villians had brought ten car loads of instruments of torture for the initiation of the Pensacolians.

sister of the groom, and Miss Lella Butler and Mr. Fred Tideman.

They were the recipients of a lot of beautiful presents, many coming from Mobile and other distant friends.

For the present they will reside with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flowers, corner Sixth avenue and Strong, while their own home is being prepared.

MRS. NORTUP'S BEAUTIFUL AT HOME.

The handsome residence of Mrs. W. H. Northup was a veritable bower of roses Wednesday afternoon the entire lower floor being thrown open and decorated with a wealth of the queen of flowers.

About two hundred guests called between 4 and 6, and were met in the reception hall by Miss Josephine Chaffin in an extremely becoming pale green silk with a touch of salmon on the collar of the lace yoke. Miss Chaffin's costume was effectively brought out by the rich red furnishing of the hall which was decorated with great clusters of red lilies on tall stems.

Mrs. H. G. DeSilva in a dainty white organdy and fluffy lace trimmings presided at the punch bowl in the alcove of the reception hall.

The parlor was exquisite in white and green, large vases of magnificent white roses and slender vases and bowls of pale tea roses were in tasteful profusion about the room, while the bay window was banked with growing ferns and palms, which with the light green walls made a charming setting for the ladies in the receiving line, who were:

Mrs. Northup elegant in black dotted net over decolette black silk with entreeux of handsome lace in surplis form about the neck. The skirt was elaborately shirred with a panel effect of lace in front. The ceinture was of soft black silk, and she wore handsome cut jet ornaments in her hair.

Mrs. E. E. Saunders in a lovely sage grey pompadour silk with pink shadow roses strewn over it, and an exquisite lace yoke and lace garniture. Marie-chiel Nell roses in her hair.

Mrs. J. R. Keller in white linen with a great deal of elaborate fine handwork, white lace insets and trimmed with handsome English thread lace. Pink rosebuds in her hair.

Mrs. Gustav Eitzen in a soft white crepey gown with black dots and a touch of light blue in the trimmings. White carnations in her hair.

Miss Walker of Alabama, sister of Mrs. Thomas V. Hannah, light blue crepe de chine with pink roses in her hair.

But, it was in the dining room that the acme of decorative beauty had been reached. Such a lavish wealth of pink roses could hardly be found elsewhere at this season, in this section of the country. It was truly a rosy rose bower. The electric bulbs were pink shaded, the bon bouis, the mints, the little cake hearts, the ice creams, the candles, all were pink. Daylight was excluded from the rooms and all were lighted by electricity and in each room an electric fan kept the atmosphere delightfully pleasant.

From the chandelier was suspended a ball of white roses, beneath which was an exquisitely appointed round table, where a trio of charming matrons presided and a quartette of pretty young girls served. Those presiding were:

Mrs. R. M. Bushnell all in dainty white.

Mrs. Thomas Y. Hannah grey crepe handsomely trimmed with white passementerie.

Mrs. Fred Mellen in champagne crepe with lace bodice. The waitresses were:

Miss Lillie Guttman in red organdy and red flowers in her hair.

Miss Ruby Mallory in yellow crepe.

Miss Kathleen Mallory in white.

Miss Roberta Fisher in accordean plaid pink silk.

OCALA BANNER'S COMPLIMENT FOR PENSACOLA LADIES.

"The Rebekah delegates of Marion Lodge, No. 15, Ocala, who attended the Grand Lodge meeting of Odd Fellows at Gainesville and saw the splendid work of the Pensacola Lodge of Rebekahs demonstrated cannot get over talking about its beauty and perfection. It illustrated what perseverance and practice does. The team is composed of twenty-six members, with substitutes for each position. These are drawn from a lodge membership of 191 persons. They have a drill master, and his only sound of command through all of the intricate drill is two clicks from a tin cracker. The work lasted for three hours and in all that time the team's evolutions were that of perfect mechanism. This team has been in existence for three years, and during the past four months they have drilled every night in the week, and those whose knowledge extends over the whole country in regard to staff work and Rebekah degree conferring teams say they have no superior in their maneuvers, not barring the crack teams of Chicago and Boston, where lodges have thousands of members from which to draw recruits.

One of the lively and impressive effects of their perfect team work is their superb oriental robes, which cost $50 each, and when they appear on the floor, with subdued lights and the glare of Roman fire to heighten the effect of their dress and evolutions, it is truly magical and beautiful.

Pensacola's staff team of Rebekahs, as they appeared and exemplified their work in Gainesville, was an experience to those who had never seen such wonderful work as a revelation indeed. It has stimulated and electrified the Ocala lodge to such a degree that they propose to compete for sim-

The Journal's Daily Fashion Feature

THE REVIVAL OF AN OLD FAVORITE.

The return to the soft and graceful lines in dress has brought into the limelight of fashion many old fabric favorites. Silk warp Henrietta is one of these, and well deserving it is of the favor given it, for, in addition to its soft draping qualities it has a trick of taking and holding the dye exquisitely. These silk warp Henriettas are used not only for dressy costumes, but for semi-tailored effects as well. The costume illustrated is in a deep raspberry tone, a lattice braid in black arranged on the skirt and disposed in stole effect on the fitted Eton. The sleeves of this coat are elbow length, a fashion that prevails in the spring gowns of cloth as well as wash materials.

MISS CALDWELL'S BRIDGE FOR MRS. JACKSON.

Miss Fannie Caldwell entertained charmingly with a bridge whist Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. John Avery's attractive guest Mrs. Jackson.

Miss Caldwell's guests, beside the honoree Mrs. Jackson, and her hostesses Mrs. Avery, were Mrs. Mallory Kennedy and her guest Mrs. Logan of Atlanta, Mrs. Charles H. Dishman, Mrs. H. G. DeSilva, and Mrs. W. K. Hyer, Jr.

Mrs. Mallory Kennedy won the prize for the highest score, a silver bon bon spoon.

Mrs. Cora Daniels and children are visiting Mrs. J. C. Carter on North Baylen.

Mrs. W. C. Mackey leaves Thursday night for Valdosta and Waycross, Ga., on a short visit to friends and relatives.

Mrs. H. Jerome Mackey is able to be up to the delight of her many friends after a confinement to her bed of nearly four weeks.

Miss Pearl Mackey of Roberts, Fla., was in the city recently visiting her several sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Born's little son, Charles, Jr., who was quite ill on Tuesday, was better yesterday.

Invitations are out for a reception and dance aboard the U. S. S. Iowa, Friday night.

Miss Hilda Blount and her attractive guest Miss Hazel Ellis left Wednesday noon for New Orleans, after spending a gay Easter holiday with Miss Blount's parents Mr. and Mrs.

W. A. Blount. The young ladies were among the guests at the Fernald-Keyes wedding Monday night, at Mrs. W. B. Wright's Country Club party Tuesday, the Osceola Club's brilliant affair Tuesday night for Admiral Evans and officers of the fleet, and received many personal attentions during their brief stay.

Mrs. Emma McFadden of Jacksonville will be the guest of Miss Fannie Caldwell during the state convention U. D. C. next week.

Miss Fan Warren left last night for Sophie Newcomb College in New Orleans, after a very delightful Easter vacation during which she was a guest at all the fetes and functions and the recipient of many charming social attentions.

An Historical meeting will be held Thursday night of U. D. C. convention week, in the Chamber of Commerce, and those interested are cordially invited to attend.

In the notice of U. D. C. invitations published yesterday it should have read that they had "been received by the Ladies Memorial Association, members of Camp Ward No. 10 and their wives, and Sons of Veterans," etc.
